19th Rod Run & Car Show

ANNUAL presented by Liberty Street Rods of Carroll County

It was a little bit of a hike for us on and early Sunday morning, but we decided to make it. With the weatherman threatening rain for sometime during the day we made the decision to take the ever faithful '62 Impala Wagon. So we loaded up the car, met up with some friends, and headed out to Carroll County and the Liberty Street Rod 19th Annual Rod Run & Car Show. The show is held at the fairgrounds, which are huge. Registration is very organized, two lines, no waiting. And when you pay you receive two tickets - which you don't want to lose - as they get you a free breakfast and lunch.

We quickly found our other friends who had been waiting for us, got parked, and headed into the Fire Hall for our pancake breakfast. The hall was packed (and air conditioned), and the pancakes were hot and plentiful. We grabbed some food, some seats and sat down for a nice family breakfast. Once we got our bellies full we went out to explore the grounds.

Now this show definitely has something for everyone. There was a nice size vendor and swap meet area. The guys spent time there, and brought a few things home. There were two Chinese Auctions that went off for some smaller items. And then there were the huge baskets of goodies that were giving away at the end of the show (we brought one home). They were really nice!! They also had games for adults and kids, a 50/50, and for those who didn't want to walk in the heat - you could jump on the Hay Wagon and take a riding tour of the show. We found this a nice way to travel, and they let you off where ever you want.

After all the exploration was done, we headed back into the Fire Hall for lunch. Now this wasn't just any lunch. This was like Sunday lunch at your Grandmothers. There was plenty of ice tea, fried chicken, mashed potatoes, green beans, applesauce and rolls to go around. Our plates were overflowing with food. And I must say, it was delicious!! All of us truly enjoyed our meal. When it was done we all headed back to the tent for a relaxing afternoon of good conversation (and a few cat naps too). Of course like most shows go, at the end of the afternoon the awards were all handed out. Liberty Street Rods does it a little differently than most. They have all the winners line up and parade down through the pavillions to get their awards. It's a nice way to see exactly what car won what. We all really enjoyed this show and talked about attending it again - if just for the breakfast and lunch. Who knows, maybe we'll see you at breakfast next year!!
